

Full Entry Announcement: Super Taikyu 2025

D'station Racing announces entry in Super Taikyu's ST-X and ST-1 Class in 2025 with a two-car assault.

Under the leadership of Team Principal, Kazuhiro Sasaki, the Aston Martin Vantage GT3 Evo will compete in the ST-X class with Satoshi Hoshino, Tomonobu Fujii, and Charlie Fagg. A driver line-up reunion from the 2022 FIA World Endurance Championship campaign.

In the ST-1 class, the Porsche 911 GT3 Cup (992) will be shared between Tatsuya Hoshino, Tetsuya Tanaka, and Kenji Hama.

D'station Racing will make its return to Super Taikyu after a brief absence from the series, but aims for victory at every round in each class.

2025 marks NEXUS Group's, D'station Racing's parent company's 30th anniversary and both cars will race in a special anniversary livery in red, the same colour that dawns D'station store locations nationwide.

Team details and season schedule are below.
Thank you to all our fans for their continued support.

Team Details

- Series: Super Taikyu 2025
- Team Owner: Satoshi Hoshino
- Team: D'station Racing
- Team Principal: Kazuki Sasaki

ST-X Class

- ST-X Class
- Class: ST-X (FIA-GT3)
- Car Number: #777
- Car: Aston Martin Vantage AMR GT3 Evo
- Car Name: D'station Vantage GT3
- Drivers: A. Satoshi Hoshino
B. Tomonobu Fujii
C. Charlie Fagg

ST-1 Class

- Class: ST-1
- Car Number: #47
- Car: Porsche 911 GT3 Cup / 992
- Car Name: D'station Porsche 992
- Drivers: A. Tatsuya Hoshino
B. Tetsuya Tanaka
C. Kenji Hama

2025 Super Taikyu Season Schedule

Round 1: Mobility Resort Motegi / March 22-23

Round 2: Suzuka Circuit / April 26-27

Round 3: Fuji International Speedway / May 30 – June 1 (Fuji 24H)

Round 4: Sports Land SUGO / July 5-6

Round 5: Autopolis / July 26-27

Round 6: Okayama International Circuit / October 25-26

Round 7: Fuji International Speedway / November 15-16